June 29 - July 31, 2009

OVERVIEW

Morehead State University's 2009 Success Academy is targeted to new students with two or more areas of developmental need in English, mathematics, or reading (based on ACT scores). Participation in the academy is voluntary, but eligible students are contacted after admission, and strongly encouraged to participate. Students admitted to the academy take 6 credit hours of required developmental courses, and 3 credit hours of General Education credit which counts toward graduation. Successful completion of the academy may allow student to register for 100 level college classes in the Fall, depending on their projected majors and any additional required classes.

2009 SUCCESS ACADEMY COST & FINANCIAL AID

Cost of the 2009 Success Academy is unavailable at this time. The Academy fee includes tuition, room, meal plan (15 meals per week), books, tutoring, and weekend activities. Transportation, class supplies, and personal expenses are student responsibilities. Normal tuition alone for 9 credits is currently $2025. The Success Academy fee of $2100 in 2008 was an exceptional value for students, and similar value is expected for 2009. . Students who are eligible for financial aid are able to further reduce the cost significantly. A financial Aid Data Sheet is available on the Success Academy website (www.moreheadstate.edu/success), and should be sent at the same time as the Academy application. A link to the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) is also available at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov/> .

Deadline for submission of the 2008-2009 FAFSA is June 30th

ADMISSION

Students admitted to MSU for Fall 2009 with two or more developmental needs receive a personalized invitation to apply to the academy. Admission is not automatic, but based on ACT scores and information supplied in the application. Students selected for the academy, are notified by telephone, and sent a full packet of instructions on orientation, academy schedule, housing, , meals, books, and financial aid. Students are admitted to the Academy on a first come, first served basis, so early application for admission, and submission of financial aid forms is important.

Final Success Academy Application deadline for 2009 is June 1st
